Mission

#YESS2016
#SafeLB

To provide a variety of resources, targeted presentations and professional training to middle and high school students, as well as parents and educators, on safety issues facing young people today.

The event is free and open to parents, college students, educators and students grades 8 - 12.

Adult Track: Opal Singleton, author, advocate and educator, focusing on dangers facing youth and parents today.

Each adult attendee may choose one of the following workshops:

- Introduction to Human Trafficking (English, Spanish and Khmer)
- Labor Trafficking - Cyber Safety - Gangs - Substance Abuse
- Risk Factors for LGBTQ Youth - Fatherhood
- CSEC: Holistic Treatment...and much more!

Youth Track: In collaboration with iEmpathize, this track will focus on empathy and why it is important in preventing and avoiding exploitation. It will include media presentations and interactive group activities.

The day will wrap-up with an expert panel discussion presentation on ways to rise to the safety challenges we face at home and in our communities.
